NEWARKS MEET THEM TO-DAY.

New York (N. L.)

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, April 18. Players, Directors, President and Manager of the New York National League Baseball Club are all on the qui vive in anticipation of the opening of the great ball season of 1890 to-morrow.

Every one connected with the grounds seems to be influenced by suppressed or visible excitement. In conversation this afternoon several of the players spoke very hopefully of the com-the players spoke very hopefully of the coming season.

One of them put it thus:

'You see we are bound in honor and interests to play ball this year as never before. The public is going to narronize the grounds where they can see the beat ball-playing. All the members of the team are in exceptionally fine physical trim and this last week of magnificent ball-playing weather has served to put the finishing touches on their training.

Though it has not been positively decided on yet, still it is more than probable that linsic and Buckley, the ex-Hoosiers, will constitute to-morrow's battery against the Phillies.

Delegates from all the downtown ex-
